The Californian Challenges

Sullivan.

A Prompt Acceptance Forwarded by the Champion.

Corbett Also Offers Mitchell a Chance for a Fight.

The Englishman and Slavin Both Talking

for a Match With John L. Fitzsimmons Willing to Meet

Ted Pritchard.

By Telegram to The Times.

PHILADELPHIA, March 8.—[By The Associated Press.] Corbett tonight sent Mitchell and Sullivan letters announcing that it was his desire to meet them both, Queensberry rules. In his letter to Mitchell he said:

You crawled over a match with me by stating that you would never engage in a finish contest again. You seem anxious to meet Sullivan to a finish. Since you have changed your mind and cannot agree with Sullivan as to terms, I suppose you will have no objection to meeting me. I will fight you any time, anywhere, for any amount of money you may stipulate.

The letter to Sullivan states that his (Corbett's) forfeit is up and he requests Sullivan to cover it. He resents Sullivan's allusion to him (Corbett) as a "bombastic member of the profession."

The letter closes:

In your general challenge you said "first come, first served." My money is in, therefore I mean to have the first chance.

MINNEAPOLIS, March 8.—John L. Sullivan has wired his backer:

Cover Corbett's forfeit, the fight to take place in August or September in the club offering the largest purse, Queensberry rules, the winner to take the entire purse, $10,000 outside bet or more; first come, first served. Also cover all bluffers' money for any match during the same time.

What Mitchell and Slavin Say.

BUFFALO, March 8.—Mitchell and Slavin were seen this morning by a representative of the Associated Press and asked their intentions in regard to Sullivan's reply to Mitchell's ultimatum. Mitchell seemed nonplussed and asked the interviewer as to the best course possible.

My ultimatum presented the case precisely," he said. "My money is in now and we wait for Sullivan to put up his money. I am ready to fight Sullivan any time. There is no reason why this newspaper talk should be continued any longer. It is my judgment that it will be profitable to wait and hold the match for next Mardi Gras. The Sullivan and Mitchell match will take place in the fall, and it will not do to have another big fight so near to it, the last which took place in the last ten weeks is that it will be warm and the city dull."

Pritchard and Fitzsimmons.

NEW ORLEANS, March 8.—Sporting men are interested by the report from London that Ted Pritchard is willing to fight Fitzsimmons in America. Jimmy Carroll, speaking for Fitzsimmons, said:

"Bob is ready to meet Pritchard at any time. It is my judgment that it will be profitable to wait and hold the match for next Mardi Gras. The Sullivan and Mitchell match will take place in the fall, and it will not do to have another big fight so near to it, the last which took place in the last ten weeks is that it will be warm and the city dull."

"What do you want?" came from O'Donnell.

"We have the prisoners here. Open the gate."

"All right," said O'Donnell, and he came down and opened the gate. He found himself pushed aside, and while two of the mob held him against the wall their fellows entered the jail.

Austria Favors the Gold Standard.

VIENNA, March 8.—Dr. Steinbach, the Austrian Minister of Finance, in welcoming members of the commission on currency reform, said that besides the question of resumption of specie payments, the commission was to consider other and difficult questions that have arisen in consequence of the far-reaching changes in the firm ratio of value which so long existed between gold and silver.

Bauer, director of the Vienna Banking Association, and Bendikt, editor of the Neue Presse, were members of the commission.

The Finance Minister Wokosinski concurred in the adoption of the gold standard.

Why Teller Opposes Harrison.

DENVER, March 8.—Several Eastern papers have stated that Senator Teller's opposition to the re-nomination of President Harrison was because of a personal grievance. Today State Senator Steck received a lengthy letter from Teller in which he defines his position on the Presidential question. He opposes the re-nomination of Harrison, he says, "simply because I do not agree with him in his financial policy as applied to silver and not because of any personal feelings." He trusts Colorado will send a delegation to Minneapolis who will vote for a candidate favoring free silver and the unlimited coinage of silver.

Another Revolt Threatened in Brazil.

RIO DE JANEIRO, March 8.—Congressman Lobo, who has exceptional opportunities for obtaining information, says that there is no doubt of the existence of a widespread plot, with ramifications in Congress and the army and navy, for the purpose of restoring to office Gen. da Fonseca and his friends. Recent news from Sao Paulo and Rio Grande do Sul indicate that the theory of a general uprising is not entirely baseless.

Killed in a Fight With Boys.

FLORENCE (S. C.), March 8.—L. W. Tolbert, the father of the International Order of Machinists and at one time its president, was killed yesterday in a fight with two boys named Barringer. The killing was the result of a whipping he gave one of the boys for alleged scandalous talk about his daughter.

Floods in Spain.

MADRID, March 8.—The Guadalquivir River has risen and is flooding the towns of Villa Nueva and Jaen, and causing an enormous amount of damage.

No More Free Bread.

VIENNA, March 8.—The police have forbidden the distribution of free bread to needy persons.

COULD NOT FUSE.

North Dakota Alliance Men Abandon the Prohibition Convention.

GRAND FORK (N. D.), March 8.—[By The Associated Press.] The State convention of the Prohibition party for the election of a delegation to the Presidential convention at St. Louis June 22 convened in this city today, the result being a split in the ranks, members of the Farmers' Alliance withdrawing.

The chairman announced that owing to lack of organization throughout the State the delegates who were there for a mass convention and credentials entitling delegates to seats would consist in signing the declaration of principles, declaring the prohibition of the manufacture, importation and sale of intoxicating liquors the paramount issue before the American people and pledging support to the National Prohibition party. This declaration all Alliance men refused to sign.

After fighting an hour in a vain endeavor to show what they were there for the Alliance-Independents withdrew. A committee was then appointed, which, after adjournment, announced delegates to the national convention.

The Alliance men held a secret session of four hours, but will divulge nothing of the proceedings except the statement that they will call for an Independent-Alliance State Convention. The result of the Alliance bolt from the United States had a claim to jurisdiction over the waters of Bering Sea under the Russian title—a point which she has heretofore steadily refused to allow.

A third group thought the treaty should not be approved finally without the addition of a clause giving the modus vivendi. Indeed there was manifested a general feeling of disappointment growing out of the refusal of the British government to accede to the reasonable request of this Government in that respect. Some Senators took the ground that, while the treaty might safely be ratified, the administration should be instructed, in the event of the continued refusal of the British government to insure protection of the seals during the arbitration proceedings, to order vessels of the United States to seize every offending vessel without regard to nationality.

After considerable discussion the treaty was referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations.

The Cabinet meeting today was important, notwithstanding the absence of Blaine, Foster and Noble. The entire session was devoted to the consideration of the Bering Sea question in general. The opinion was unanimous that the position assumed by the British government in opposing a renewal of the modus vivendi was untenable and not justified by the condition of the sealing industry. It was argued that the opening of Bering Sea waters to indiscriminate slaughter by poachers would undoubtedly result in serious injury, if not total destruction, of the industry, and thus defeat the very object of the negotiations. It was decided to insist on a modus vivendi somewhat similar to that of last year.

Another question was in regard to the transmission to the Senate of copies of the correspondence on the question since January 6, 1891, the date of the last published volume to aid that body in its consideration. While the general opinion was favorable to this, it was concluded to leave the matter open for a few days. The correspondence would naturally include the last communication received from Lord Salisbury respecting the modus vivendi for the coming season, and may be delayed until it includes also the response to Lord Salisbury. This Government is desirous of reaching a prompt agreement in regard to the fisheries in order that it may be officially promulgated in advance of the departure of the sealing fleets.

Since the above was written it is learned that Acting Secretary Wharton delivered to the British Minister this afternoon the reply of this Government to Lord Salisbury's note declining to renew the modus vivendi. The reply reiterates the position of this Government and insists upon a renewal of the modus vivendi of 1891 for the coming season. It is understood that Sir Julian Pauncefote cabled the entire text of the note to Lord Salisbury this evening.

Domino View of the Case.

OTTAWA (Ont.), March 8.—Minister of Marine Supper stated today that the chief contention against the renewal of the modus vivendi was that it was not necessary for the preservation of seal life as held by the United States. The only danger of extermination was in the wholesale slaughter carried on by natives and the Alaska Company in the breeding grounds.

Wrangling Over the Irish Funds.

LONDON, March 8.—The writs issued by a French tribunal at the instance of Justice McCarthy have been served upon Timothy Harrington, Joseph Edward Kenny and Mrs. Parnell, calling upon them to withdraw the objections they lodged some time ago with the Bankers' firm of Munroe & Co., prohibiting that house from paying to McCarthy the funds belonging to the Irish parliamentary party of which the late Parnell was one of the trustees.

Rioters Gathering at Leipzig.

BERLIN, March 8.—A dispatch from Leipzig this morning states that discontent among the large number of unemployed workmen in that city is spreading. At a gathering on the street today where a large number of unemployed men assembled, several speeches were made. A large force of mounted police appeared and the crowd dispersed after some threats of resistance.

Members of the Mala Vita Arrested.

ROME, March 8.—The police of Taranto have arrested 188 persons suspected of being members of the Mala Vita Society, the principal object of which is brigandage.

The Alessandro Tract of 21,000 acres is equal to 36 square miles, and is 12 miles long by 3 to 4 miles in width. A most magnificent valley. With the finest soil in the world for orange or fruit culture; with the best water right in Southern California. No stone or brush on the land. People wonder at the great success and rapid growth of Alessandro until they are driven over the tract, then they are not surprised, and all exclaim: "The half has not been told." Nature has truly been lavish with her gifts at Alessandro in regard to climate and location, and we predict a much more rapid growth during the next two years than in the past year and a half of its existence.

INTEREST TO BE PAID.

Latest Phase of Cable Road Affairs.

A Lively Contest in Judge Wade's Department Yesterday.

The Court Declines to Allow the Road to be "Squeezed Out."

Receiver Crank Instructed to at Once Pay the Interest Due on the First Mortgage Bonds—Some Interesting Disclosures.

In Department Three yesterday morning the matter of the petition of Receiver J. F. Crank, of the Pacific (Cable) Railway Company, for leave to apply certain money in his hands to the payment of the interest due on 886 first mortgage bonds, came up for hearing before Judge Wade.

J. D. Bicknell, Esq., appeared for the petitioner, who was present in person, and S. C. Hubbell, Esq., appeared for the stockholders of the Pacific Railway Company, the creditors of the company, who opposed the petition, being represented by Messrs. W. P. Gardiner, D. P. Hatch and H. O. Collins.

The ball was opened by W. P. Gardiner, Esq., who informed the court that he represented both the plaintiff, Edward Russell, and the intervenors, a number of Chicago creditors, the aggregate amount of whose claims exceeded $2,000,000.

At the request of counsel for the petitioner Attorney Gardiner then read the list of the creditors whom he represented and by whom objection was being made to the petition.

Judge Wade, interrupting the speaker, said that the matter had never been submitted to the court at this time, but if it appeared to the best interests of all concerned to bring the matter to a crisis by foreclosing, he would offer no objection. As a business man he did not know what was the best policy. If the court could not prevent the foreclosure of the first mortgage bonds he hoped the petition would be denied.

The court remarked that a million, more or less, was a mere bagatelle. There were only two courses open, one irretrievable and the other reversible, but not remedial, as it only postponed the climax three or six months. He considered it safer, however, and better to take the latter, as he was less liable to make a mistake thereby. It was therefore ordered that the receiver be directed to pay the interest on the coupons on 886 first mortgage bonds, amounting to $12,540, due September 15 last, on or before March 15 next.

At the suggestion of Attorney Collins it was further ordered that the receiver pay the interest to the Bank of California, due September 1, 1890, on the 140 bonds held by it.

BASEBALL
New Suits for the Los Angeles Team—A Fine Outfit.

The new suits for the Los Angeles baseball club arrived yesterday and attracted considerable attention in the Tufts-Lyon display window, where they were placed on exhibition. The suits came from Spaulding's, and that firm writes that they are the finest ever turned out by their house. They are certainly handsome enough for any pennant winners, and are very expensive.

The suits consist of white shirts, with the name "Los Angeles" across the breast, black pants, black stockings, black caps and black belts. Then there are a dozen Norfolk jackets, or "blazers," two each of red, white, blue, grey, maroon and black. There are also eleven double bat bags, each labeled "Los Angeles," besides a fine assortment of wagon tongue bats. A carload of base hits is now on the way here.

Manager Glenavlin donned his uniform yesterday afternoon and put in a couple of hours at the Athletic Park limbering up.

Tredway, Wright and Newman will be the last members of the club to arrive. They left Chicago last night and will be here Sunday morning. The other boys will arrive Friday afternoon.

The club will go to San Diego on Saturday, the management having wisely decided to take them out of the city for preliminary practice, presenting the players entirely new to the local fans. Glenavlin is a firm believer in the virtues of surf-bathing for athletes, and if suitable arrangements for this cannot be made at San Diego the club will spend a week at Santa Monica.

The Seattle team will arrive in Los Angeles next week. Manager Powell expects to put in a couple of weeks' practice here, and he will probably be accommodated at the First street grounds by the old Los Angeles favorites.

THE CITRUS FAIR.
Largest Crowd of the Season Last Evening.

Los Angeles County Day Observed in a Fitting Manner.

The Exhibit to be Kept Open for Another Day.

An Attractive Programme Arranged for This Evening—Several of the Displays Brightened Up—General Fair Notes.

The largest crowd that has yet visited the citrus fair crushed its way through the pavilion last night. A sea of faces looked down from both galleries on the throng of people elbowing their way about on the main floor.

The chief stage attraction was the Chinese orchestra, which was a great novelty to Eastern people. The celestialists clashed their cymbals, beat their instruments and tattooed away with chopsticks in the most solemn and philosophical style, creating a horrible din, which, with the strident absence of harmony, seems to constitute the chief merit of the music. There were five performers and their orchestra plays nightly at the Chinese theater in Chinatown. Never until last evening have they manipulated their instruments for the benefit of a "Melican" audience. The guns from San Diego's fort boomed a salute to the close of each selection. The tableaux representing dreams and realities from the four cardinal points were also given again last evening and these, with the Chinese band and the orchestra, made up a fine evening's entertainment.

Yesterday was set aside as Los Angeles county day and in honor of this distinction the Pasadena people brightened up their booth under the big crown with a lavish supply of cut flowers tastefully arranged by Mrs. J. W. Bancroft. Calla lilies studded the cypress columns which support the crown and a floral bicycle mounted by a wax boy attracted much attention. The spokes of the wheels were of scarlet geranium blossoms and the tires of smilax. A beautiful basket of roses wreathed with English violets, a horseshoe of roses, a bowl of gorgeous California poppies and clusters of yellow violets and other wild flowers added to the attractiveness of the booth.

Santa Barbara's table was also beautified by daffodils, hyacinths, jonquils, narcissus, amaryllis and damper blossoms sent down fresh from the Channel City yesterday. Senator Heath and Harley Johnson, who is the largest citrus fruit packer in Santa Barbara county, were among the visitors yesterday. A large number of people from Pasadena, Azusa and other suburban towns were also in attendance during the day, the crowd being largely augmented at night by Los Angeles citizens. It is estimated that fully 25,000 people have passed through the doors of the pavilion since the fair opened a week ago. The managers have decided to keep it open another day, closing tomorrow evening instead of tonight. Thursday is designated as visitors' day, and the Chinese orchestra will play again on the evening of Friday in Los Angeles city day. Among the distinguished visitors yesterday were Dr. Truman Miller and wife of Chicago, Louis Huck and Mr. Hall, of Keith Bros., prominent merchants of the Windy City, and Mrs. Cora Dudley and Grand, assistant secretary of the Board of World's Fair Directors for Colorado, who is doing California in the interests of her office.

TODAY'S PROGRAMME
The following programme will be given this evening:

Under the direction of Mrs. Landings, of the Ladies' Auxiliary has been E. F. C. Klokke has been an ever-present guardian over the fortunes of the fair.

Riverside had a banner up on each corner of her big platform, recording her trophies. Miss Jeanne C. Carr of Pasadena and Mrs. Howe of Santa Barbara visited the fair yesterday.

Pasadena says she don't care for the prizes; she came to advertise her section and is satisfied with the result. Redlands made Riverside take down the offensive "off" which was sandwiched in between "county" and "Riverside."

Mrs. J. M. Stewart, Miss Grace Stewart, Miss Nellie Boynton, Miss Maud Boynton and the Misses Harrison were among the visitors at the citrus fair last night.

Supt. C. D. Willard, who has worked faithfully, imparting knowledge to the city by together this exhibit, is justly entitled to a large share of credit for the success of the fair and general harmony which has prevailed.

Frank Wiggins has transferred his energies for the time being, from the Chamber of Commerce to the citrus fair, where all his faculties for booming Southern California to the tenderfoot are called into requisition.

A small edition of the citrus fair was turned loose in the streets yesterday in the shape of a float, ornamented with a tower of Indian and sundry orange-colored placards and banners, erected under the superintendence of Frank Wiggins.

Mayor and Mrs. Hazard, Jesse Hurd, T. D. Mott, Ralph Hoyt, George L. Cochran, C. O. Kington, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Patrick, Rev. George P. Bugbee and family, Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Diehl, Mr. and Mrs. Gillette, W. H. Burns, Dr. Bullard, Mr. and Mrs. Heintz, Postmaster Van Dusen and S. B. Caswell were among the Angelinos who visited the fair last night.

AMUSEMENTS TONIGHT.

AT THE OPERAHOUSE—Superba.

SPOKANE FALLS, Wash., is raising a subscription for the starving Russians.

The schemers who less than a year ago boasted so proudly that they "would control the street railways, the lighting, the water supply and the politics of Los Angeles" don't seem to be arriving at the desired goal, Elias, with any rapidity at all. No.

HENRY WATSON has been whipped into line. He warns the Democrats against Hill and then adds: "If these warnings go unheeded and he is nominated we mean to support the ticket." Watson is in favor of independence up to the point of falling down.

THERE are three rivers in Virginia called respectively, "The Bull Pasture River," "The Cow Pasture River" and "The Calf Pasture River." They may furnish water good enough for the F. F. V's, but the people on the hills of Los Angeles want an abundant supply of clarified water from the only reliable source, to-wit: The Rio de Los Angeles.

THE House has passed one appropriation bill in its ten weeks of dawdling—that for the military academy. It appears to have found one wholly useless expenditure, from its point of view, which it ruthlessly pruned away. This was an appropriation of $50 for soap. Mr. Holman doesn't propose the Government shall educate a lot of young duds who can't wash without such luxuries.

THE latest Southern woman aspirant for literary honors is a young story writer of Tennessee who, like Charles Egbert Craddock, writes under a masculine name, Will Allen Drumgoole. But in this case the name is her own real one. Boston pets and fetes Miss Drumgoole, therefore her success must be considered assured.

THE curiosity of the Oakland Enquirer has been piqued by the course of the Terminal Railroad Company of Los Angeles, which, it says, goes on buying up local railroads with apparent ease. "Like a bookcase which needs but a single twist to be expanded into a bed or clothes-horse, which can be expanded into a family rocking-chair, the Los Angeles Terminal Railway, seems to be capable of transformation into another transcontinental line."

At the next meeting of the California Pomological Society, to be held at Redlands the first Thursday and Friday in May, Prof. Pierce, the Government expert who investigated the mysterious vine disease, will furnish a paper on the "Cryptogamic Diseases of Trees and Vines." Special efforts will be taken by the Redlands committee to make the meeting an interesting one to practical horticulturists.

JUDG WADSWORTH, with clear head and firm hand, did a most commendable judicial act yesterday in ordering the interest paid on the first mortgage bonds of the cable road, thus defeating the conspiracy of the wreckers who are trying to obtain possession of the property to aid in bolstering up a rival enterprise which otherwise could not stand. Judge Wade has shown that a competent court can protect a property when the judge gives his personal attention to its management. Receiver Crank will continue at the helm of the cable road.

DAVID B. HILL has been a United States Senator some eight or ten months, during three months of which time the Senate has been in session, but he has been in his seat hardly ten days. The rest of the time he has been acting as Governor of New York and laying plans to be elected President. He is soon to start on a swing-around-the-circle in the Solid South, on a campaigning trip like Cleveland's. Mr. Hill seems to think that the office of United States Senator is a political plum which was given him for his own delectation and that he owes no special obligation to his constituency or the country. Mr. Hill has a number of ideas about politics which the people generally (a large proportion of the Democratic party included) do not like.

THE Riverside Press says that about 870 carloads of oranges and lemons have been shipped from Riverside thus far this season, and the quantity from Redlands, Colton, Ontario, Highland and Pomona will not carry the total above 700 carloads. There remains to go forward from Riverside about 250 carloads, Redlands, 40; Old San Bernardino, 60; and Highland, Colton and Ontario perhaps 75 more, making a total on hand of a little over 400 carloads yet to be shipped from San Bernardino county. This is a liberal estimate. The quantity unsold in Los Angeles and other counties is limited, and those best qualified to judge assert that the total crop of Southern California will not exceed 1800 carloads, and probably will not go above 1500. It will be seen that the crop will therefore be less than last year of that of last year. This verifies the estimate which THE TIMES made before the season opened. At that time many papers denounced the statement as unwarranted, intended to influence the market or hurt the country, and so forth, but it was nevertheless a fact, and the sooner our people realized it the better it was for them.

Council, and the protection should be given promptly. It can be done without injustice to the water companies. The people should keep up the agitation for the three points suggested above.

A. E. WATSON, a well-known newspaper man of the East, has a readable article in the current number of Lippincott's on "The Newspaper Man as a Confidant." He puts an effectual quietus on the popular error that newspapermen print anything and everything that they can get hold of, "just to fill up."

The "filling up" process is one of the least concerns of the average journalist. It is the selecting, the boiling down, the eliminating process that concerns him most. It requires courage as well as judgment to publish a successful newspaper, and private spite must not figure in it. An editor must have the backbone to refuse publication for that which he deems improper, as well as to print things which he is certain will displease some people. People who hand him matter "just to fill up with" frequently have an axe to grind and the axe is intended to cut somebody. The average editor of a city newspaper does not publish anything that everybody wants him to, and does not tell everything that he knows about everybody—not by a jugful.

An article in the Counselor for January cleverly illustrates the absurdities and perplexities of the conflicting divorce laws of the different States. For example, a South Carolinian who is divorced and again married in Florida can be arrested for bigamy should he return with his wife to the former State. On the other hand, a Pennsylvanian who secures a divorce and then seeks another wife in New York can return in safety to the State of his first choice, provided the authorities of New York do not succeed first in enforcing the law and placing him in prison. "And yet," exclaimed the writer, "we read in the Constitution of the United States that full faith and credit shall be given in each State to the public acts, records and judicial proceedings of every other State." But how that is to be done in cases where the other States have a diversity of public acts, records and proceedings the Constitution sayeth not.

It is thought that the Arid Lands Bill will be before Congress for discussion this week. This is one of the most important measures in land affecting the West. The measure proposes to cede to the several States the arid lands within their limits which can only be reclaimed by irrigation. Whether it is better to reclaim these lands through the medium of irrigation works constructed by the Government or throw the responsibility of reclamation upon the State is an open question. In either case the system, especially as it applies to the sale of the lands, is open to abuse, but we are inclined to think that the abuses will be greater under State or Territorial than under national control. That the lands ought to be reclaimed and settled there can be no question; it is only to be determined which is the best way of doing it. When Congress gets to discussing the matter we may have some new light.

PROF. RICHARD T. ELY, author of "The Labor Movement in America," "An Introduction to Political Economy" and many other important economic works, has been called from his chair at the Johns Hopkins to the University of Wisconsin. He will be placed at the head of a new school of political science which will be conducted on somewhat new principles. It will offer a training preparatory to the civil service, just as West Point prepares for the army and the technical schools for industrial life.

AT THE PLAYHOUSES.

GRAND OPERAHOUSE.—The old-time Christmas pantomime show on the boards at the Grand Opera House last night, the production being the Hanlon brothers' latest trick play, Superba.

The plot of a piece of this sort does not change, but on deck the wicked queen with her nimble coterie of imps, the good queen with her bevy of fairies, and the pair of persecuted lovers who come out right side up with care, as has been the fashion since time in pantomime first began. Superba is full of striking mechanical appliances that make things come out the same old-fashioned and mysterious in the most wonderful way. It has the usual dumb and supple clown, who does the things that such an artist always does in the same clownish fashion, and some quite handsome tableaux, which were especially well received last night.

A number of the specialties introduced are clever, especially the grotesque dancing of Philippi brothers and the daring acrobatic feats of the four Schroder brothers, who quite outdo the Cragg family seen here some time back.

The bull fighting tableaux were good the naval scene, which was a splendidly introduced by the actors, and the scene on a sea of roses, were also quite handsome. The final tableau, the fountain of dewdrops, was the best spectacle of the performance, and was very striking and handsome. Maude Midgett made a very handsome "superba," the good queen, and the villainous queen, the bad female who makes troubles for lovers, was very acceptable.

The same piece will be given tonight and the remainder of the week.

THE LAKE QUAKES.

A Desert Volcano Breaks Out During the Disturbance.

SAN DIEGO, March 8.—[By the Associated Press.] A party of prospectors who were in the New River region of the Colorado Desert at the time of the earthquakes have just returned, and bring with them a story of a blazing volcano.

"We were on the lower Laguna Mountains," said one, "close to the Mexican boundary line, and about midway between San Diego and Yuma, when the earthquake occurred. It was felt sharply there and our first thought was to look for the outbreak of a volcano, but to our surprise, instead of an outbreak of smoke and steam, which was visible in the Cocopah region, the first had entirely disappeared. The first day after the earthquake the entire desert was as clear as a mirror. That night a change came. We heard rumbling and the next day the smoke returned denser and blacker than ever. That night from the mountain tops we could plainly see a flame shooting up. The volcano appeared to be about forty miles away and located on Mexican territory. The flame was not high above the level of the desert, and appeared to come from a pit-hole."

AN ELECTION MURDER.

SACRAMENTO, March 8.—[By the Associated Press.] Just after the polls closed this evening, in the First precinct of the First Ward, some words passed between "Big Neck" Smith, a San Francisco ward politician, and Patrick Brannigan, a plasterer of this city, when Smith shot and killed Brannigan. The latter was considerably under the influence of liquor.

He and Smith had had a little quarrel earlier in the day, and Brannigan is said to have threatened to kill Smith. When they met this evening some words passed between them on the sidewalk in the midst of a crowd, when Smith drew a big pistol and shot Brannigan in the chest. The latter fell upon the sidewalk and Smith placed the pistol to his head and shot a third time. Brannigan died instantly.

Deceased leaves a widow and five children. He was a native of New York, and in his younger days a prizefighter of some note. Brannigan had made no demonstration at the time he was shot. After the first shot, however, he tried to draw a pistol, but dropped his hand when shot a second time. Smith surrendered to Officer Gibson and was marched to the police station. Much indignation was expressed and Brannigan's friends talked of taking Smith from jail and lynching him.

STATE BOARD OF TRADE.

Interesting Reports—California's Exports—Efforts to Secure New Markets.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8.—[By the Associated Press.] The annual meeting of the State Board of Trade was held this afternoon. The chairman of the special committee Gen. Chipman filed a long report on the importance and needs of the rivers and harbors of California. Embodied in the report is the opinion of J. A. Morrissey of Stockton, who makes some good points as to what competition in water freights has done for Stockton.

Another long report was submitted by Gen. Chipman as chairman of the Committee on Industrial Resources of the State. It showed in detail shipments from the State during 1891 of fruits, wine and brandy. The total shipments of fruits of all sorts were 352,900,425 pounds, of 17,645 carloads. The wine shipments were 2,538,440 from north of Tehachapi. The raisin shipments were 47,784,000 pounds, an increase of 6,118,670 pounds, or 380 carloads, over 1890.

Of shipments during 1891, 138,588,425 pounds went from south of Tehachapi and 229,538,440 from north of Tehachapi. The raisin shipments were 47,784,000 pounds, an increase of 6,118,670 pounds, or 380 carloads, over 1890.

The orange shipments from the six southern counties during 1891 footed up over 1,800,000 boxes or 4698 carloads. In commenting on the figures given it was said that the marketing of products deserved more serious consideration.

Mr. McAfee, chief of the Coast branch of the department, reported that the committee was diligently at work endeavoring to secure a market in England for California dried fruits.

A communication was received setting forth that the miners' convention recently held in this city, desired moral support for the purpose of again continuing hydraulic mining. It was finally decided that the board would give such moral support as was possible, and the general manager was instructed to send a favorable reply to the communication.

The board refused to take any action on the communication received from the Academy of Sciences touching on international matters of the Coast branch of the Signal Service Bureau in this city. A long discussion followed on agricultural matters and W. H. Mills offered the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

"Resolved, That in the opinion of the State Board of Trade the Department of Agriculture at Washington should be requested to establish a branch of the department in this city, to be presided over by a commissioner who shall inquire into the needs of agriculture on arid lands lying west of the one hundredth meridian."

FIFTY-SECOND CONGRESS. FIRST SESSION.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—[By the Associated Press.] Senate.—Among the papers presented and referred was the report of the chief of engineers of the army as to mining debris in California.

Mr. Squire presented a memorial from the Chamber of Commerce of Port Townsend, Wash., setting forth:

"That the present state of the Bering Sea sealing fishery works a grievous hardship to our fishermen by depriving them of the rights and privileges which they enjoy in the North Atlantic, and that American fishermen are encouraged and protected by the Government of the United States. The chamber asserts its belief that the waters of the North Pacific Ocean, and the waters of all products to be found in those waters should be as free as the waters of the North Atlantic. It desires now to have it referred to that committee. It was so referred.

Mr. Stanford introduced a bill, which was referred to the Committee on Finance, to fix the duty on opium at $5 per pound.

Mr. Felton introduced a bill to create a California debris commission and to regulate hydraulic mining. Referred.

A message from the President, transmitting the recently negotiated treaty of arbitration between the United States and Great Britain, relative to the Bering Sea fisheries, was laid before the Senate. It was unanimously approved.

The calendar was taken up and bills were passed as follows:

Indians residing upon reservations; appropriating $800,000 for a public building at Spokane, Wash.; appropriating $500,000 for a public building at Alameda, Calif.; appropriating $250,000 for a public building at Boise City, Idaho.

The Pure Food Bill was taken up. Mr. Cole's amendment to strike out sections 7 and 8 was defeated.

Mr. Cole's amendment to strike out section 9 and it was agreed to. The sections were amended so as to restrict their application to original unbroken packages.

The bill was then ordered printed.

House.—After Mr. McMillin of Tennessee had given notice that he would call for consideration of the Free Will Bill, Mr. McCrea of Kentucky announced the death of his colleague, Mr. Kendall, and as a mark of respect to the memory of the deceased the House adjourned.
